NEWS RELEASE

PRIVATAIR REINFORCES ITS AIRCRAFT MANAGEMENT TEAM

International business aviation specialist PrivatAir announced today that it has strengthened its U.S. management division with the promotion of Robert Frost as Vice President of Aircraft Management Sales, effective immediately. Rob's experiences in both aviation and sales roles prior to joining PrivatAir has lead him to this position. His primary task in this capacity will be the development of new Aircraft Management opportunities for PrivatAir throughout the U.S.

After earning a Masters Degree of Business Administration, Rob worked as a business consultant for a small firm and as Manager of Flight Operations for a Corporate Flight department in Toronto, Canada. He then moved to the U.S. where he has been in the position of Operations Manager for Flight Services Group, now PrivatAir, for the past two years. While serving as Operations Manager for PrivatAir, Rob has achieved 100% productivity in the department and has been instrumental in managing the resources necessary for the growth of the company's aircraft fleet.

Herb Knight, PrivatAir's Senior Vice President of Aircraft Sales, Acquisitions and Management, said, "Rob Frost's professional experience makes him in my opinion an ideal fit for the needs we have." "Rob knows how things work here at PrivatAir, and presents an exceptional opportunity for PrivatAir and our growth objectives."

PrivatAir's management division continues to perform outstandingly and additions to the fleet are made on a regular basis. In addition to our 13 Gulfstream and mid-sized jets, we now have a Global 5000, two GV's, two Embraer Legacy aircraft, and a 19-seat Beech 1900. The PrivatAir fleet continues to grow and become more diverse each year.
